

Microseismic @survey

A type of Passive seismic survey, based on the small microseismic events which are basically small earthquake, usually very low Richter magnitude (ML < 2.0).

The source of these earthquakes have been detected and located at distances of over 1 km from the monitoring well in some hydrocarbon reservoirs, depending on seismic attenuation and complexity of the velocity structure.