

Wellhead Choke

@wikipedia

Wellhead element which restricts the cross-sectional area of the fluid flow between wellbore and surface flowline.

It is the same element as a Pipeline Choke which is used to control the production rate from producing well or injection rate to injecting well.

See also

Petroleum Industry / Upstream / Well / Well completion / Wellhead

Physics / Fluid Dynamics / Pipe Flow Dynamics

Pipeline Engineering / Pipeline

[Pipeline Choke @model]